DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 25, 2008 has been entered.

Claims 20-26, 30-31 and 33-56 are pending.

Claim Objections

Claim 50 is objected to because of the following informalities: the claim lacks ending punctuation. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22-24, 35-45 and 50-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hood, Jr., et al. Hood, Jr., et al discloses a vessel 42, a helical coil bundle 22 formed by a first segment 26 and a second segment 28 (Figure 5), and a distributor 44 and manifold 48 located within the vessel and having a radius substantially equal to the bending radius of the coil. The recitation of “for treating a viscous medium or for carrying out chemical reactions in viscous medium“ is considered to be a statement of intended use, even if claimed, does not merit patentable weight unless the body of the claim refers back to, is defined by, or otherwise draws life and breadth from such intended use. It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Regarding claims 22 and 43, Figure 5 of Hood, Jr., et al discloses the second bundle 32 is formed by two segments 34, 36.

Regarding claims 23 and 44, Figure 5 of Hood, Jr., et al discloses three segments 26, 28, 30 in the bundle 22.

Regarding claims 24, 45, the segments 26, 28 of Hood, Jr., et al have substantially the same length.

Regarding claims 35-38 and 52-55, the “process” limitations are considered to be functional recitations, wherein MPEP 2114 states, in part:

APPARATUS CLAIMS MUST BE STRUCTURALLY DISTINGUISHABLE FROM THE PRIOR ART
While features of an apparatus may be recited either structurally or functionally, claims directed to an apparatus must be distinguished from the prior art in terms of structure rather than function. In re Schreiber, 128 F.3d 1473, 1477-78, 44 USPQ2d 1429, 1431-32 (Fed. Cir. 1997) (The absence of a disclosure in a prior art reference relating to function did not defeat the Board’s finding of anticipation of claimed apparatus because the limitations at issue were found to be inherent in the prior art reference); see also In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d 210, 212-13, 169 USPQ 226, 228-29 (CCPA 1971); In re Danly, 263 F.2d 844, 847, 120 USPQ 528, 531 (CCPA 1959). “[A]pparatus claims cover what a device is, not what a device does.” Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Bausch & Lomb Inc., 909 F.2d 1464, 1469, 15 USPQ2d 1525, 1528 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (emphasis in original).

Regarding claims 40 and 42, Hood, Jr., et al discloses a second bundle 32 having a different bending radius from the first bundle 22.

Regarding claims 50-51, as permissibly gleaned from Figure 2, Hood, Jr., et al discloses the radius of the

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30-31, 33-34 and 48-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hood, Jr., et al in view of Ono et al.

Hood, Jr., et al discloses all the claimed limitations except an agitator.

Ono et al discloses a reactor comprising a vessel 1, heat exchanger 2 and agitator 5, 8, 9 for the purpose of improving heat exchange.

Since Hood, Jr., et al and Ono et al are both from the same field of endeavor and/or analogous art, the purpose disclosed by Ono et al would have been recognized in the pertinent art of Hood, Jr., et al.

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Hood, Jr., et al an agitator for the purpose of improving heat exchange as recognized by Ono et al.

Regarding claims 31 and 49, Ono et al discloses shaft 12 suspending the agitator 8, 9 surrounding the heat exchanger 2 with inlet 3 and outlet 4 at the bottom of the vessel 1.

Regarding claims 33 and 50, the heat exchanger 2 of Ono et al is about 45% of the vessel radius.

Regarding claims 34 and 51, the specific radius of the bundle is considered to be an obvious design expedient, producing no new and/or unexpected results and solving no stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art would employ any radius of the bundle to achieve a desired amount of heat exchange.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 25-26 and 46-47 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

The rejection of claim 34 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph is withdrawn in view of the amendment.

The rejections in view of Lameris are withdrawn in view of the amendments.

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The rejection in view of Ono et al teaching an agitator for the purpose of improving heat exchange is deemed correct for lack of any argument by applicants.
